WILLIAM DUSEL IS APPOINTED NEW POSTMASTER

Announcement was made this week from Washington of the appointment of William Dusel to succeed A. Fulton as postmaster here. Fulton was appointed temporarily to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James V. Swift, who had held the position for the last seven years.

The term of office of the present postmaster has been one of improvement, and though short, has seen the fulfillment of many promises that will mean better postal service in the future as well as at the present time. Since Mr. Fulton has been in the office here, he has secured a parcel post delivery system, a need long felt in town, has added a third carrier to the staff to facilitate the early delivery of mail, and had instituted an early morning collection and dispatch of mail.

These improvements fill a need long felt in Redwood City, and the retiring postmaster leaves with the gratitude of the people of the town for the improvements in the service for which he has been responsible.

The newly appointed postmaster who will take his office immediately, has promised still further improvements in the service. He is an able businessman and has had considerable postal experience before. Dusel was formerly the manager of the Bear Gulch Water Co., and more recently has been employed by the realty firm of Lambert & Walter. He has been a resident of Redwood City for about a year and previously lived in Menlo Park for three years. Dusel obtained his appointment upon the recommendation of Arthur M. Free, congressman of this district.

National Champ. Diving Contest

Last Sunday was an ideal day at Searsville Lake and the high diving contest staged there attracted over a thousand spectators. A diving tower with a sixteen and a twenty-six-foot platform was erected on the old dam and as the water is 90 feet deep at this point some wonderful dives were executed.

National Champion Clarence Pingston, Al White of the Olympic Club, San Francisco; Bud McKee of the New York Athletic Club; de Ferrari of San Francisco and Halvorsen of Chicago, unattached, were the contestants and Ernest Bransten of Stanford, who arranged the meet, was the announcer.

Pingston, who won the world's championship at the Olympic games in Antwerp in 1920, easily demonstrated that he was of the highest class and the dives which he made were beautiful examples of skill and daring. At the conclusion of the meet, which was for the National A. A. A. championship, Pingston was awarded the gold; White, the silver, and McKee, the bronze medal.

JURY DISAGREES IN DAMAGE SUIT

The jury in the case of Heles S. Moon, as administratrix of the estate of Merle B. Moon Vs. the Market Street Railway, reported to Superior Judge George H. Buck Thursday that an agreement could not be reached after having considered the evidence in the case fo an hour and a half, and was ordered discharged.

It was reported that the jury stood 7 to 5 in favor of the defendant corporation.

Mrs. Moon brought suit last December in which she demanded $100,000 damages for the death of Moon, who died from injuries received when a street car of the company struck his automobile at the San Bruno crossing. Moon was a prominent rancher of Saratoga, the complaint alleging that he was earning $30,000 a year and was the sole support of his wife and two daughters.

A large number of prominent people were witnesses in the case, among them being Mrs. W. C. Van Antwerp, who drove her car from San Francisco imediately behind the Moon car prior to the fatal accident. It was charged by the Railway Company that Moon disregarded the signals of the watchman at the crossing and drove his car past others which were standing still and immediately in front of the approaching street car.

It is probable that Attorney Robert L. McWilliams and Rufus R. Kimball, representing the plaintiff, will ask that a new date for trial be set at an early date. The defendants were represented by Attorneys Walter N. Linforth and Hall C. Ross.

The jury was composed of the following: Edna Hawkins, Mary D. McGuire, Hazel Mansfield, Maude E. Decker, Celine L. Angers, Effie W. Mahaney, Eugene J. Lucy, Christine Risso, Charles W. Langley, Frederick D. Loton, Deborah Friedman, and Beulah Bower.

Bloise was operating a still in a shack in the rear of Louchere's home and the terrific heat caused the booze-making apparatus to blow up. The explosion took the roof with it and ignited the Louchere home.

ATHERTON IS NOW A MUNICIPALITY INCORPORATION ELECTION CARRIES

Vote Favoring Incorporation Shows Almost Unanimous Desire For City Government

ATHERTON A CITY OF SIXTH CLASS

Atherton our newest municipal neighbor was created a city of the sixth class yesterday by the almost unanimous vote of the citizens of the section embraced by the incorporate limits of the town. It was thought at first that some opposition might develop, but as everyone seemed to be satisfied with the plan of becoming a city the election started quietly. By noon, however, a small contingent began voting an opposition ticket. This movement lacked backing and the vote was, at the time this issue was printed, as follows: For incorporation 56, against incorporation 4.

The newly elected officers who will guide the destines of the new town are:

Trustees:—
M. A. Harris, 54
F. H. Crosby, 54
Eli Wiel, 50
Cutler L. Bonestell, 51
Edward L. Eyre, 54

Treasurer:—
C. F. Michaels, 53

Clerk:—
C. R. Walter, 55

Ten persons wrote in the name of Albert Jennings as trustee. Total of 133 votes were cast, showing that only 20 of the qualified voters of the district failed to avail themselves of the franchise. While less than half of the votes are counted at the present writing, the almost unanimous preponderence of affirmative votes assures the result.

They may be left at either of the two banks, or given to Mrs. J. N. Winter, Mrs. A. Kincaid, P. P. Chamberlain, Mrs. Z T. Thorning, A. E. Monteith, C. M. Doxsee or Roy W. Cloud.

Among the first to appear before the court of "Avenging Justice" was A. Anderson of San Francisco, who was arrested for cutting curves on the La Honda grade by officer K. Kreiss. MASONIC GRAND MASTER TO LAY CORNER STONE

Announcen ent was made this week that Grand Master Sherman of the Grand Lodge of California Free and Accepted Masons, that he, with the other officers of the Grand Lodge of California, would on Saturday, September 29, at 2 p. m., lay the corner stone of the new high school building. The ceremony of laying the corner stone is one particularly cherished by the Masonic order, and dates back thousands of years. The origin of the ceremony is, in fact, lost in the mists of antiquity. It is certain, however, that the ceremony which will be used by the Grand Master in laying the corner stone of the new Sequoia Union High School, differs in no material way from the ceremony used by President Washington, as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Virginia in laying the corner stone of the United States capitol at Washington. Most of the Federal buildings of this country were started with this Masonic ceremony. The ceremony of the Masonic fraternity has been employed in laying the corner stones of the majority of the school buildings of this country, which is particularly fitting, as the Masons, the world over, have devoted their efforts to the cause of education, and the public schools.

A musical program is being arranged for the occasion by Prof. Otis M. Carrington, and other arrangements will be made to make this occasion a memorable one. Redwood City is fortunate in securing the services of the Grand Master, and no pains will be spared to make the occasion a big one for Redwood City.

NEWS OF WOODSIDE

The hot weather of the last week has put a stop to the practice of the school football team but has not checked the ardor of some enthusiasts to organize a football team among the adults of Woodside. A call was sent out for a meeting on Thursday night of all over 145 lbs. in weight who might desire a place on the team. Not enough material appeared for the building of a first class team but it is still believed by the enthusiasts that the brawn of Woodside will assert itself.

The Family Club took charge of the services at the Church of Our Lady of the Wayside on Sunday last. This annual event usually draws a throng of worshippers to the little church, but this year for some reason, the service had not been publicly announced, even the members of the church being in ignorance. In consequence the attendance was much smaller than in former years. The music was rendered by San Francisco soloists, members of the Family Club, and deserved a much larger audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hooper and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hooper were hosts at a luncheon given to a number of their friends from the city at the Menlo Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cunningham and daughter of San Francisco were week-end guests of Mrs. Bradford Leavitt.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

County Superintendent of schools Roy W. Cloud has called the Institute for the teachers of San Mateo County for October 1, 2, and 3, at the High School, San Mateo. Wilson of the Berkeley school department; Superintendent Charles C. Hughes of Sacramento; Dr. Clarence L. Phelps, president of the Santa Barbara State Teachers' College; Mrs. Grace C. LABOR DAY

Last Monday we celebrated a day set apart in honor of labor, work, the work of the hand and the mind, the power which has raised mankind from the crudest savagery to the present day civilization. In every time and in every land progress has been solely dependent upon labor, and the prosperity and stability of every country in history has been to a marked degree measurable by the position held by the workers of that country. Lands who thrived for a time by accenting the military at the expense of the workers, taxing the artisans to maintain a conquering army, subjecting the woking class to slavery, soon found their glory to be transitory and vanishing. The strength of the nation is in the workers. So in our country, as no where in the world, or in the pages of history, we find the workingman enjoying the fruits of his labor, unhampered and free. No where does such prosperity exist among the working people as in the United States. The workman of this country may well rejoice in his position, and should see that non tempt him to trade his birthright of freedom for a mess of potage and a second Russia. While the worker of the United States trusts in the government which has already given him so many blessings, and keeps his place among the workmen, honored and respected, he need fear no opression. We are glad that there has been a day set apart to pay honor to this great force in our country's scheme of things.

DEVELOPMENT OF COAST SIDE

We were on the north coast side of San Mateo county last week and in traveling over Pedro mountain to Montara we saw the wonderful sweep of country that should be peopled with thousands of workers of San Francisco. To be sure a lack of transportation makes this impossible now, but a start could be made. The first unit of the Skyline Boulevard ends where it strikes away from the Colma-San Pedro Road at the top of the Colma hills. From there to the ocean beach at Salada Beach there is a good wide road. If the County could take the old right of way of the Ocean Shore Railroad Company and turnpike it on its way around Pedro Mountain a fine, level road could be developed which would give farmers and property owners a safe way to travel where there would be no grade.

Every few months we read of someone being killed by gong over the San Pedro grade. The drops in some places are in the neighborhood of six hundred feet. A car going over such an enbankment has no chance and as a rule the occupants are killed.

Every year the county has to spend many hundreds of dollars to keep up this winding mountain road. It is long and winding and dangerous. We believe that a sea level road which could be secured for practically nothing would be a safer way. Its upkeep would be a mere fraction of the upkeep of the present road. It would be more scenic. It would open up Green Canyon for occupancy. It would help the farmers who haul their produce. It would reduce accidents. It would be a convenience in every way. We can see no arguments against acquiring this right of way. We can see many reasons why it should be acquired, and the greatest of these is that it would be are means of aiding the development and growth of the coast side of San Mateo county.

PROSPECTS OF ANOTHER WAR

Over in Europe the other day some misguided Greeks killed the members of an Italian Boundary Commission which was attempting to fix some national boundaries. We will not presume to discuss the reasons for the act or anything connected with it. We realize that boundary questions have caused the bitterest quarrels and we know that even in our own country a boundary discussion caused the Mexican War, and war always results in the loss of life and causes enormous debts.

Because of the killing of these Italian commissioners, Italy has made certain demands upon Greece. At first Greece refused to consider the demands. Whereupon Italy prepared for war. Now Greece is willing to do the things requested and Italy is not disposed to accept. It is possible, and in every way probable, that a great war may follow. Unrest in Europe would cause certain nations to welcome an alliance that would help them to change conditions. We may see another World War.

Were it possible to have a World Court, such possibilities would be avoided. If a Court could decree that the terms demanded by Italy were just and could then enforce its decree, wars would be averted. There is no reason why we should not have such a court. With it, and the combined policing power of the civilized nations of the world, all matters of dispute could be settled and it would not be necessary to send our boys out as fodder for cannons and gas and all other dreadful things that go with wars.

ADMISSION DAY

Well, well, old friend, we congratulate you. You are seventy-three years old tomorrow, and you haven't even begun to grow up. It isn't because you have given to the world, a fortune in gold, or the perfume of glorious flowers, that we love you. It isn't because you have supplied the world with the finest of fruits that we would praise you. Its because, California, you mean home to us.

Here in our homeland by the great Pacific you have given us the shade of gaint Sequoias. You have filled our trees with birds that we might have melody. You have carpeted our walks with wild flowers that we might have beauty. You have given us a soil that would produce anything so that we can be contented. California, you have been good to us far beyond our just deserts.

So we wish you many happy returns of the day, and we hope that your children will ever love you and be loyal to you. We trust that you will always be known as the fairest jewel in the diadem of states.

We don't known who penned the following, but it is our sentiment too.

Oh! California, Queen of States,
Bestows to all within her gates,
The richest gifts from natures breast.
Well named, Oh! Queen, 'The Golden West.'"

SYMPATHY

Our neighbors over in the Orient are experiencing one of the greatest disasters that any nation has ever been called upon to endure. Earthquakes have been a common thing in Japan; tidal waves have also taken their toll, but as a rule they have come singly. Now these two monsters have come together upon the little brown men and with them has come a third fiend, fire, and so the destructon of great cities has been awful.

If reports are correct, hundreds of thousands of lives have been snuffed out and millions and millions of dollars worth of property has been destroyed. We can well believe that the suffering in Japan will be indescribable. We who went through a great earthquake and fire know something of the hard times that follow, but our loss was small compared to that suffered by Japan.

When we had trouble, we welcomed the help and sympathy of the world. We needed assistance and it was given us. We had the whole prosperous State of California and the wealth of the greatest nation in the world at our disposal. Other sections of Japan may be able in a measure to help the stricken parts, but we also must help. California should be the first state to send out relief. Redwood City must do its part. We cannot think of Japan now as a menace; it is just a poor stricken neighbor.

Court Suit On Traffic Cop Job

Salaries of San Mateo county traffic officers along with others of the state, recently reinstated, will be held up pending a test of the new motor vehicle law, as indicated in announcements from Sacramento.

Suit by Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle Department, to test the constitutionality of the law, under which the men went back on the roads last Saturday, will probably be started within a few days.

The suit will be directed against State Controller Ray L. Riley, who is standing pat on his refusal to pass salary claims of the offcers. Riley holds that the legislature did not make a valid appropriation for the payment of the traffic forces and also questions the validity of other sections of the new statue, officials declare.

Wild West Show At Menlo Park

There will be a regular Wild West Show and Rodeo at the Menlo Park Circus Club's track at Atherton on September 16. This rodeo will be one of the greatest ever staged in this county and a number of attractions have been planned that are entirely new. The rodeo is being managed by E. L. Brown who has been managing the rodeos at the Sky-Line Ranch at the top of the mountains, and by G. H. Clark, who managed the rodeo at Cheput's place last year. Both of the young men are skilled equestrains and broncho busters. A number of stunts have been planned, including a stage hold-up and pony express riding.

NEWS OF WOODSIDE

The barbecue given by J. L. Ross Jr. and Peter Koehorst on Saturday night proved a great success. The tables, loaded with good things to eat, were spread under the oak trees and near by glowed the pit half filled with glowing charcoal and red hot tones. When the guests had arrived, he thick, juicy sirloins previously easoned to stimulate even a jaded apetite, were spread upon the steel grating over the pit, and the fragrance would have drawn a hungry person from miles away. If any left he tables with any portion of his anatomy not filled it was not the fault of the hosts. Peter Koehorst officiated at the pit and made good his reputation as an out-door chef.

After the dinner there was dancing till a late hour, the music being furnished by San Francisco and Los Angeles orchestras over Joe Ross' radio equipment.

Among those present at the barbecue were Mr. and Mrs. Caswell Swett and children, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kroeck and children, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mighall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swan, Dick Shields, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Gish, Miss Bradley, Mr. McCurrie, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ross Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Koehorst and children.

Tributes to the memory of the late John A. Britton of Redwood City, vice-presjdent of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, were voiced at a memorial service in the Exposition Auditorium, San Francisco last Thursday. Representatives of the Boy Scout movement, in which Britton was a leader for many years, paid tribute to his memory as did members of the Lincoln Grammar School Alumni Association, of which he was a founder.

Uda Waldrop, organist of the auditorium, and a close friend of the deceased, gave a concert of sacred music.

Britton's life of service to San Francisco and to other communities was eulogized by Mayor James Rolph Jr., Charles C. Moore, Judge Lucius Solomon, Frank C. Drew and Charles H. Sutton.

The stamp is the same size as the present 2-cent variety, is printed in black ink and the center of the stamp bears a profile of our late president, Mr. Harding. In the upper left hand corner is printed the year of his birth, 1865; while the year of his death, 1923, appears in the upper right hand corner. A million of the stamps were sent to San Francisco for distribution. It is expected they will be used for a year.

FRAGMENTS OF COUNTY HISTORY BRIEFLY TOLD

On the acquisition of California by the government of the United States, under a treaty of peace, settlement, friendship, limits and settlement with the Mexican republic, dated Guadalupe Hidalgo, Feburary 2, 1848, the boundaries of the State of California were defined. This treaty was ratified by the president of the United States on March 16, 1848, exchanged at Queretaro May 30th, and finally promulgated July 14 of the same year, by President Polk, and attested by Secretary of State James Buchannan. In 1849 a constitutional convention was assembled at Monterey, and at the close of the session, a proclamation calling upon the people of the territory to form a state government was issued. This historical document bore the signatures of "B. Riley, Bvt. Brig. General, U. S. A. and Governor of California, and official, H. W. Halleck, Bvt. Capt. and Secretary of State."

In accordance with section fourteen of article twelve of the constitution, it was provided that the state should be divided into counties, and the senatorial and assembly districts, while the first session of the legislature, which began at San Jose on December 15, 1849, passed on Feburary 18, 1850, "An act subdividing the State into counties, and establishing seats of justice therein."

Although our territory constituted a part of San Francisco county, owing to the preponderence of population and influence in the city, the southern or rural portion of the county played a very unimportant part in its politics or government.

Our sole representation was on the board of supervisors. The county was so districted that what is now San Mateo county (excepting, of course, the portion acquired from Santa Cruz county in 1868) comprised three districts, each district was entitled to one supervisor on the board of San Francisco county.

Owing to the distance to and difficulty of easily reaching the county seat, it was all the more impiortant that the justices of the peace here should "magnify their office" and stretch their jurisdiction to the utmost bounds. This they did, and some ludricrous incidents are related of these early justices, who, in their zeal to afford the residents of this part of the county speedy and inexpenisve justice and redress for the infraction of rights to all manner of property, occassionaly granted divorces, tried title to property, and gravely passed upon questions of constitutional law

San Mateo county was born out of troubleous times. The excitement consequent upon the discovery of gold in California had brought to our shores people of almost every kindred and tongue under the heavens and organization of society with more hetrogenious elements than were here represented was never attempted.

San Francisco county was well neigh overcome with the comorants of society. There were not enough offices in existence to afford them the spoils they desired, and increased opportunities for plunder were eagerly sought.

With the design of affording the well-disposed citizens of San Francisco more adequate safeguards for person and property, the Hon. Horace Hawes, in the spring of 1856, introduced into the State senate a bill entitled "an act to repeal the several charters of the City of San Francisco, to establish the bounderies of the City and County of San Francisco, and to consolidate the government thereof. This was known as the "Consolodation Act" and resulted the creation of a new county. The above bill was enacted a law and received the Governor's approval April 19, 1865.

Here was another golden opportunity, the viciously disposed, those whose conduct has called into existance the famous vigilance committee—saw a list of offices to be filled and plunderee. The opportunity which the second Monday in May afforded was not to be lost. The election was held and the result was astonishing. No one had conceived the voting capacity the little county possessed. More than two thousand votes were cast for a total population of less than five thousand. This vote was swelled to the above proportions by the northern precincts, and those under the dominant influence of the rabble that welcomed the election as a means of plundering the peoples' treasury under the form and guise of law and authority.

With the most shameful disregard of the citizens' rights to a fair election, in certain precincts the polls were taken possession of by crowds of men whose residence in the county had not exceeded twenty-four hours, and the ballot-boxes were stuffed with the most unblushing effrontery. In short the first election of San Mateo county was a mere farce, involving serious, almost tragic consequences. At the polls the rabble was victorious, as far as a polling majority was concerned, but the fruits of victory were reserved for future distribution. The organic act provided that the commissioners should meet at the house of Edward Hancock, in Redwood City, on the second day after the election and canvass the returns. R. O. Tripp, one of the commissioners, had from the first refused to participate in this attempted oganization of the county, but his colleagues, Cairk and Johnston, on the day specified, appeared in the parlors of the American House and proceeded to ascertain and proclaim the results of the election.

The men who stood at the polls and perpetrated the most outrageous frauds, now came before the commissioners, and with brandished weapons, demanded what they called a fair count, or in other words demanded that their nominees be counted in. The names of many of these were familiar to the vigilance commttee of San Francisco, and their presence anywhere was a harbinger of disorder and lawlessness.

The offices in which they were especially interested were those of sheriff and supevisors. Their candidate for the former was Barney Mulligan, bother of the notorious Billy Mulligan, and other candidates were of the same unsavory nature, although there were some honorable exceptions. At the canvassing, the Mulligans, Chris. Lilly and McDugall were conspictious by their violent and roitous demonstrations. The commissioners attempted to canvass the returns behind closed doors, but they were forced open by a crowd of as villaneous-looking men as ever contemplated the loss of personal liberty from behind prison bars. Papers were seized and proceedings arrested, with the probability that the commissioners would be unable to complete their duties. The occasion of this violent interuption was the rumor that the gangs' candidate for sheriff was being "counted out," but upon representations to the contrary the deliberations of the board were permitted to proceed.

As an incident of this day's lawlessness may be mentioned the fact that Billly Mulgan, seeing what he supposed to be a package of ballots in favor of his brother's adversary, seized it and was tearing it to pieces, when some one suggesting that they were in favor of Barney, he quickly returned them.

As it was, a good many ballots were lost and destroyed, but out of the number polled the loss of a few hundred votes was of no material consequence. Lilly's headquarters, for instance, gave five hundred votes, when there were less than fifty male adults residing in the district, and two hundred and ninety-five names were upon the list from Crystal Springs to represent less than twenty-five qualified voters. It was afterwards discovered that some of the lists were almost identical with lists of the male passengers on the Panama steamers that had arrived in San Francisco about that time.

This memorable day's proceedings were finally terminated, and the commissioners announced that Belmont had been chosen as the future county seat of justice; Ben F. Fox, county judge; W. T. Gough, district attorney; Barney Mulligan, sheriff; Robert Gray (Lilly's bar-keeper), county clerk; William Rogers, treasurer; John Johnston, Charles Clark and Ben. Fenwick, supervisors; Chas. Fair assessor and A. T. McClure, coroner.

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes

Mr. Carroll is the representative of the Goodrich Rubber Company in Japan and had a big manufacturing plant in Yokohama. After the earthquake with his wife and friend named Patten, who was the only survivor of the Grand Hotel fire, started for Osoka, from there taking the first boat out to San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll's young son, Newton, is attending Warren school. The boys was mighty glad when he received a cablegram after the disaster that his parents had escaped injury.

Two marriages that will startle local society will be made known next week. Watch for the announcement.

Mrs. Root and her twelve year old son perished at Yokohama during the earthquake. She had only reached the city when the upheaval took place. Her young son, Jack, is here attending the Warren school. The boy is prostrated with grief.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. O'Kayne have returned from a visit to the state fair at Sacramento. They declare that the exhibits this year are far better than have ever been displayed before. The weather was extremely warm, almost unbearable.

Supervisors Fix County Tax Rate

The Board of Supervisors of San Mateo met in regular session last Monday for the purpose of fixing the tax rates of the county, and transacting other business. The first matter to be brought before the board was the annexation by the city of Burlingame of certain land adjoining that city. This matter was presented to the supervisors in the form of a petition by Attorney John Davis of Burlingame. As there were no objections expressed, the board passed a resoultion allowing the annexation.

The matter of the county tax rate was next considered by the supervisors, and a motion for the fixing of each rate was made by Supervisor Hekey. Hickey's motions were based upon the rates presented in the estimates furnished by the auditor and were as follows:

How to Place Food in a Refrigerator

By properly placing the various kinds of food in your refrigerator, you can prevent the circulating air from mingling food odors unpleasantly.

Bottled liquids should be placed on the floor of the refrigerator; and butter, lard, cream and milk on the lowest shelf. Tender vegetables and fruits should be on the top shelf, while meats and similar foods are placed on the intermediate shelves.

Of course, the most important rule is to keep your refrigerator always well filled with ice, every month in the year. That is your best protection against spoiled food and sickness.

Don't Confuse "High-Price" with "High-Quality"

If automobile oils were priced solely on quality and efficiency, no oil should cost you more than good, high quality Zerolene. But quality and efficiency do not determine the price of oils sold here. The difference in the price of Zerolene and other oils usually goes into long-haul transportation and high merchandising costs, which we do not have to pay to make Zerolene available. All that you spend for Zerolene goes to buy high quality only.

Therefore we say, "Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less." Ask for it by name—Zerolene.

Time-Wasting Belt Eliminated

The Johnson Impeller Washer eliminates the time-wasting belt that slips, stretches, or breaks at the most inopportune moment. In place of this belt, the machine is operated by the direct drive—Worm Gear Reduction running in oil. Like all the other moving or oily parts of the Johnson Washer, the direct drive is enclosed.
This is but one of the many distinctive and exclusive features of the machine, which we will be glad to demonstrate to you in your home. Its performance will astonish you.

Luxuriously Lovely are the New Fall Coats

Developed in deep pile fabrics—They have that wrappy tendency which brings them to the front in a small flare, where they fasten with a single button arrangement.
Most of them are enhanced by ample Collar of the season's Smartest Furs. Graceful in every line, they are the sort of Coats that do not compete with woman's beauty but subtly enhance it.
